Last night was probably the hottest night in five or six years, the weather bureau officials said. The lowest temperature was 75. It is but once in five or six years that the temperature remains this high at night. It is said.

The thermometer was 98 at noon and going up. It reached 99 in Bismarck at 4:30 yesterday, the hottest place in the state.

All June records were broken, the weather bureau announced this afternoon. The mean temperature for the month of June, ending today, is 71 degrees. The nearest approach to this record was 69 degrees in 1887, 1910, 1911 and 1919. The maximum temperatures on various days from June 22 to 30, the hottest period of the month, follow:

22nd ..... 91 27th ..... 88	23rd ..... 90 28th ..... 95
24th ..... 98 29th ..... 99	25th ..... 98 30th, 1 p. m. .... 102
26th ..... 85

The heat wave is said to extend over the entire country. Chicago weather bureau officials were quoted in a Chicago paper as saying this June is the hottest in 50 years.

Occasional showers broke the heat in the state in the last 24 hours, ending at 8 A. M. this morning, the weather bureau report showed. Bismarck was recorded as having .03 of an inch of rain in this period; Bowbells, .51; Devils Lake, .08; Ellendale, .05; Fessenden, .12; Langdon, .07; Larimore, .02. None of the 15 other weather stations reported rain.

Napoleon Close Second.

While Bismarck was the hottest weather point in the state yesterday, Napoleon was a close second with 97. At Dickinson it was 94, at Dunn Center 94, at Lisbon 94, at Minot it was 96, at Fargo 94, at Williston 94.

The weather bureau report said that it would be partly cloudy and somewhat unsettled tonight and Friday, and not quite so warm, but gave no indication of marked relief from the heat wave.

LAWYER AND
JUDGE CLASHTilt Marks Argument of Case
in Supreme Court

The supreme court has under consideration today the arguments in the stay of proceedings asked in the libel suit of William Langer against the Courier-News, of Fargo.

The case was argued in supreme court yesterday.

Argument in court was marked by a tilt between Chief Justice Robinson and Attorney W. S. Lauder, of Wahpeton. Attorney Lauder objected to what he thought was an intimation by the chief justice that he was in league with District Judge Allen in preventing the Courier-News from getting the case transferred from Richland county.

"That's false," exclaimed Lauder. Justice Grace rapped vigorously for order in the court room.

The case originally was brought by Langer in the Cass county court, was transferred to Richland county and the Courier-News asked that it be transferred to another county. Judge Allen denied the motion and a stay of proceedings was sought in supreme court.

HOUSE ADOPTS PEACE REPORT

Washington, June 30. — The house today adopted the conference report of the resolution terminating the war with Germany and Austria-Hungary.

The vote was 263 to 59. The proposal, a compromise between the Knox and Porter resolutions, must be approved by the senate before it can be sent to the president.

LEG IS BROKEN

Accident Near Ball Park

HIS PLAYMATE ESCAPES

Driver of Car is Held to Answer Police Charge

Robert Falconer, 10-year-old son of Fireman James R. Falconer, is in a local hospital this afternoon suffering from broken leg, sustained in an automobile accident yesterday afternoon. The leg of the little fellow, which was broken once above and once below the knee, according to his father, was set this noon, and he came out from under the influence of the other all right.

Fred Gruenberg, 312 First street, driver of the automobile which struck the boy, was charged with reckless driving by the police and held before Police Magistrate Cushman.

The accident occurred near the ball park. Someone had stolen Robert's wheel from in front of the McKendzie barber shop and in company with Raymond Barth, 12, a playmate, they went to the ball park in search of it. They were riding on Raymond's car. They were coming away when Mr. Gruenberg, who said he had driven around there and intended to turn around, struck them. Mr. Gruenberg said they were close in him when he saw them.

Robert was knocked from the wheel and crushed by the car. Raymond was knocked clear of the car and was not badly hurt.

Friends of Robert hope that the boy or man who stole the bicycle will feel a pang of pity and return it, so the boy at least may have it when his leg is mended and he is off crutches, which will be weeks. The little fellow was a Tribune carrier and his business has been increasing rapidly of late. He was energetic and always had winning smile. Scores of playmates anxiously inquired as to his condition today.

SLIGHT INJURIES IN SOO WRECK

Minot, N. D., June 30. — A broken brake beam was stated by Soo railroad officials in Minot to have been the cause of the wreck of the Bismarck-Minot passenger train near Benedict in which W. L. Foster of Minot, baggage man, was injured, and G. C. Riggs of Drake, mail clerk, and passengers, received a severe shaking up.

The accident happened two miles west of Benedict. The baggage and mail cars and engine tender turned over into the ditch and the engine and two passenger coaches left the rails. A broken rail penetrated the floor of the rear passenger coach but passengers were not injured.

Foster was brought to Minot. His condition is not serious. Riggs was bruised but suffered no fractures. Foster received his injuries when the cream can in the car piled on top of him.

RETURNS FROM SCENE

Superintendent Derrick of the Soo lines, has returned from Minot, from the scene of the wreck of a passenger train which left Bismarck Tuesday morning. Mr. Derrick said he was on the scene 20 minutes after the accident but was unable to determine the cause of the wreck. A newspaper report ascribed it to a broken brake. Mr. Derrick said the damage was not great.

Reform Association
Seeking to Prevent
Dempsey-Carp. Contest

Jersey City, June 30. — Vigorous attempts are being made by the International Reform Bureau to stop the Dempsey-Carpenter fight. Pierre Galvin, who is directing the prosecution, told the Associated Press that the matter would be placed before the Hudson county grand jury and that all parties to the contest would be prosecuted.

It is contended that the mill is not a boxing exhibition permitted under the laws of New Jersey but a prize fight.

FIGHT TO GO ON.

Jersey City, N. J., June 30. — Governor Edwards today told the Associated Press that the Dempsey-Carpenter fight would go on Saturday.

The governor said he had not yet received the letter addressed to him by Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts, superintendent of the International Reform Bureau, from Trenton, asking him to prevent the bout.

"You may say, however, that the fight will go on and will be conducted absolutely within the law."

VICTORIES OF
TWO FIGHTERS
FAVOR DEMPSEYAmerican Pugilist Has More
Actual Knockouts To His Credit Than Carp.

New York, June 30. — Veterans of numerous gory ring battles, will face each other in the ring when Jack Dempsey defends his heavyweight title against the challenge of Georges Carpentier in the Jersey City ring, July 2. Through several campaigns, both have won and lost contests in nearly every possible manner. Both have won by knockouts, on points and by fouls; both have lost on points and by knockouts, although Dempsey never has lost a decision on a foul as did Carpentier to Frank Klaus, when Manager Descamps climbed into the ring to save the Frenchman from further punishment.

Carpenter, fighting since 1907, is the more grizzled veteran of the two, in winning his way up from the bantamweight ranks to the heavyweight class. Carpenter, who started boxing at 14, has engaged in 85 battles. In 71 of these he emerged from the ring the victor. Thirty-four times, he won by knockouts; 33 times on point decisions and four times on fouls by opponents.

The Frenchman has fought only five draws; has lost once on a foul and has been knocked out once. To a French youth named Gloria goes the credit for being the only opponent who has stood over the challenger and listened to the toll of the referee.

Carpenter's record, before the war, is one of the most active credited to a leading boxer. Service in the French army curtailed his boxing for four years but since the armistice, with a heavyweight title bout his main consideration, Georges has engaged in fewer glove contests.

Jack Dempsey has fought 64 battles and 55 resulted in victories for him. The champion has knocked out 45 or almost three-fourths of his opponents in six years of boxing, a remarkable record. Nine times, he has won on point decisions and his only victory on a foul was over the ponderous Carl Morris.

The champion has fought four draw decisions; has lost on points twice and has hit the canvas only once to stay there for 10 seconds. "Fireman" Jim Flynn, in 1917, achieved that startling feat but later the "Pueblo Fireman" was knocked out in less than a minute by Dempsey when the latter was on his way to the championship. Dempsey also has fought two no-decision bouts.

PRACTICES OF STATE BANK IN
COURT DISPUTEAttorney in Brinton Case Cross-
Examines Director-General of Bank

LAWYERS CALLED DOWN

Judge Nuesse Again Cautions
Them Against Side
RemarksThe state rested its case at 2:15
this afternoon.

Practices of the Bank of North Dakota in dealing with banks in which its deposits public funds were gone into in district court today in the Brinton trial in the long cross-examination to which F. W. Cathro, director general of the Bank of North Dakota, was subjected by Arthur LeSueur, defense counsel.

Attorneys in the case, J. J. Weeks, special prosecutor, and LeSueur engaged in several tilts and both were warned again by Judge Nuesse against casting side remarks in the presence of the jury.

LeSueur inquired at length into the method of safeguarding funds in the Bank of North Dakota, and whether or not the Bank of North Dakota made any investigation of the various banks in the state in which large sums of public money are deposited. Mr. Cathro distinguished between re-deposits, consisting of money which was in the banks when the Bank of North Dakota was organized and which was left in the banks, and deposits consisting of money put in the banks later. LeSueur sought to establish if there was investigation of the responsibility of banks in which public money is deposited.

Practice of Bank.

"Is it the practice of the Bank of North Dakota to make an investigation of the responsibility of banks in which state or other public money or other money is deposited?" he asked.

"It is not the practice of the Bank of North Dakota to investigate the standing of banks in which it makes re-deposits," the witness replied.

The witness said there was a different rule with regard to banks having deposits and those having re-deposits. He said the rule of the state bank required that an examination be made of banks having new deposits. Asked if there was an examination made of the Scandinavian-American bank of Fargo he said that J. L. Waters and L. W. McAnaney examined it at Thanksgiving time, 1919.

He admitted that the Bank of North Dakota had deposits in that bank for a considerable period previous to that time. He said that Waters when he went to Fargo examined the bank and had in mind the purchase of the bank.

Put in Letter.

LeSueur read into the records a letter written by A. E. Snyder, former transit manager of the state bank, which has been a part of the basis of Brinton's and Waters' statements. LeSueur sought to establish, after reading of a deposit in the Mercantile State bank of Minneapolis, that about the same time a $50,000 deposit was made in Minneapolis bank that bank placed $50,000 in the Scandinavian-American bank. The witness said he did not know this. LeSueur asserted the minutes of the Scandinavian bank showed it.

It was discovered during the trial yesterday afternoon that a stock certificate of the Scandinavian-American bank of Fargo is missing.

The stub of the certificate of the stock book record of the bank, exhibited in court by Nels J. Brevig, formerly assistant receiver of the closed bank and assistant receiver at the present time, showed that it was made out to H. A. Paddock, presumably the same H. A. Paddock who formerly was general manager and then counsel of the Consumers United Stores Company and now secretary of the Industrial Commission of North Dakota.

The certificate of the stock itself was missing. Mr. Brevig said that the stock, which according to the record had been issued to Mr. Paddock but which was not received, had been cancelled. Arthur LeSueur, counsel for Brinton, laid stress on the fact that ten shares of stock had been shown on the stub as transferred from the League Exchange to Paddock. Mr. LeSueur also got into the record the minutes of a meeting of the board of directors of the Scandinavian-American bank of Fargo of Nov. 17, 1919, in which Henry Paddock was named as director of the bank and elected chairman of the discount committee. It being the intention of the attorney to show that a Fight fans of Bismarck and territory will be able to hear the returns from The Tribune office. The great mill begins at 1 P. M. Bismarck time and as there may be a day light saving provision in Jersey City which will put the fight ahead a little, returns may begin to simmer in earlier.

The Tribune will either bulletin the fight by rounds or megaphone the returns from the Thayer side of the building. Full report of the contest will be carried in the final edition of The Tribune. Come and join the crowd. It's the biggest ring battle of the century.

TESTIMONY DULL
IN BOWEN TRIAL
CASE DRAGS ALONG

Hettinger, June 30. — Trial of D. R. Otley in the Bowen murder case has failed to develop anything sensational during the last few days. The state is moving along slowly and it is expected that the case will drag along for a week or so.

Lee Plummer, a brother of Mrs. Bowen, testified as to certain measurements he had taken. He told of the condition of the body following the shooting.

Martin Blank, former Beach editor, who became involved in criminal libel charges in connection with the case was on the stand Wednesday. He told of conversations he had had and measurements he had taken. Cross-examination of Blank was vigorous on the part of the defense.

The large crowds which are gathering every day find little of the interesting nature. Up to date the trial has been devoid of any dramatic elements. It is expected within the next day or so that the state will put in evidence showing an alleged feud existing in the neighborhood and much of the ground gone over in the investigation by the state may be re-traveled in the prosecution.

Other than the testimony given by Mary, aged 11, daughter of the alleged murdered M. K. Bowen, no other evidence directly concerning the actual shooting of Bowen was given.

The last three days have been given over almost entirely to testimony on details relative to the location of the body of the dead man, the points where empty shells of different caliber were found and other measurements made on the ranch.

Former Sheriff Testifies.

John Percina, former sheriff of Golden Valley county, who was removed from office by Governor Frazier and later reinstated, this afternoon was placed on the stand by the state.

Martin Blank, former editor of the league newspaper at Beach, was on the witness stand yesterday and testified that he and Seaman Smith and Blank Bentley had gone to the farm. In fact Blank had been at the murder farm every day up to that time after the shooting and had searched on this particular day, Aug. 4, 1919, for shells. He recited in detail where the shells were found.

On cross-examination Blank declared that only one place where shells were found had been marked. Nevertheless on Aug. 10, six days later, he had made the measurements as to the location of the shells which the state contends shows where various men stood when the shots were fired. The testimony of Percina and witnesses yesterday and today was of detailed technical character laying the foundation for the later summing up on the part of the state which is not expected to finish its case until sometime the latter part of next week.

TAFT MAY BE

Washington, June 30. — Although official information is withheld some of President Harding's closest advisors expect him to nominate former President Taft for chief justice of the United States. In some quarters it is believed official announcement of the selection of Mr. Taft might be made today.

ARMY MEASURE IS NOW SIGNED

Washington, June 30. — President Harding today signed the annual army appropriation bill directing reduction of the regular army to 150,000 men by October 1, but at the same time advised Congress that in his opinion further legislation might be required to relieve the government of the embarrassment of violating its obligations to enlisted men whose discharge the reduction will make necessary.

FACTS FOR TAXPAYERS

Three business concerns in the Capital City pay nearly $40,000 a year on their city property exclusive of federal and special taxes.

Some premium to do business in Bismarck!

This is one reason why the taxpayers squirm when the hue and cry of another bond issue is raised.

Those who are voters must realize, whether they own property or not, that this tax is shifted. It turns up in the shape of rents and is absorbed in many other ways by the man who owns no property of his own but who is usually keen for piling up the public debt through frequent bond issues.

If the process of deflation is to continue in Bismarck, those in charge of the city affairs must put their shoulders to the wheel and cut the tax load.

Many men with small homes find that the taxes make occupancy of them a heavy drain upon their income.

If the pace keeps up, the growth of the city will be retarded. Those seeking a business location ascertain the tax rate before locating an industry or building a home.

A Bigger, Better Bismarck we all are working for—but excessive taxes kill municipal growth.

Mr. Voter you help to pay the freight directly or indirectly and just remember this before obligating the city to any more special assessments.

Give business a chance to build up the town.

6 BOYS ADMIT
ROBBERIES OF
STORE IN CITYChief of Police Also Round Up
Boys Who Broke Into Watermelon Car

Five boys have confessed to Chief of Police Martineau that they broke into the South Side Bargain store, 232 Ninth street south. A large quantity of tennis shoes, shirts, tobacco and other articles were recovered from the boys by the police chief. The store was broken into on three different occasions, the chief said. Three of the boys operated in one gang and the two others operated together. All live in the vicinity of the store.

Names of a gang of 14 boys that broke into N. P. freight cars and stole watermelons and malt also are in the hands of the chief, through confession of some of the members after part of the gang was traced down.

What will be done with the boys has not been determined. Action will be taken when State's Attorney McCurdy returns to the city tomorrow.

GRAIN HANDLERS MAY WALK OUT

Chicago, June 30. — Employees of Chicago grain elevators have refused to accept the owners' offer to arbitrate their differences and a strike will be called tomorrow it was announced today.

Less than 1,000 men were said to be involved but their work is of such an expert nature that their action may tie up the movement of grain.

It was understood that the men refused to accept a cut in wages. The men ask shorter hours.

HOTEL CLERK
CONNECTED UP
WITH MURDERStates Attorney Green Says Defendant Made Advances to Girl Over Phone

NET DRAWING TIGHTER

Tense Moments Reign During Long Preliminary Hearing

Fargo, June 30. — William Gummer confessed having been in the room of Marie Wick, 13, Grygla, Minn., before her body was discovered in a room of a local hotel on the morning of June 7. William Green, states attorney of Cass county, testified today at Gummer's preliminary hearing. The girl was found tied to her bed, gagged and skull fractured.

Gummer, 22, night clerk of the hotel, was held charged with the crime. His story of the event of the night the girl was killed as previously related was that he had known nothing of her death until several hotel employees opened the door after the girl failed to respond.

CHANGES STATEMENT

It differs materially from the statement which Attorney Green said the defendant made to himself, to Sheriff Fred Kraemer and to a Burns detective, E. M. Brandies.

Gummer, according to admissions the officials credit to him, opened the door of Miss Wick's room with a skeleton key at 8:30 a. m., advanced about 3 steps into the room and found the girl dead. Gummer says, according to this story, he retraced his steps, went down stairs, waited about ten minutes and then called Fred Lawrence.

MADE ADVANCES

Mr. Green also declared that Gummer confessed having made advances to Miss Wick over the telephone after she had gone to her room, which she had repulsed, according to his testimony.

Today before Justice Bingham, Gummer's alleged admission to officials on June 14 were recited by William C. Green, states attorney. He presented himself on the witness stand to present the transcript of the talk officials had with Gummer lasting from 3 p. m. to 12 midnight on June 14.

The courtroom was cleared of spectators when Mr. Green was called to the stand.

This was done, it was said, because of the nature of much of his testimony.

Miss Mary Melara, chambermaid at the local hotel, where Miss Marie Wick was murdered June 7, testified today in the preliminary hearing of William Gummer, night clerk of the hotel, who is charged with the crime. Miss Melara occupied a room under No. 30—the one in which Miss Wick was killed. The chambermaid heard a sound as of pounding in or near room 30 at about 4 o'clock on the morning of the murder, she said. After this sound ceased she heard someone leave the room and walk down the corridor.

Miss Melara told how she had been awakened. "All of a sudden I thought somebody jumped out of his bed and took his shoes and struck the bed," she said. "It seemed to me that the person might have been sore for not being called in time to catch a train."

"Shortly afterward the clock in the court house tower struck four," she said.

Miss Melara, who was the first to enter the room of the dead girl in the morning also told of finding the body. Her testimony cleared up the mystery of a blood-stained Bible which had been found in a room next to No. 30. It had been stained with blood before the murder occurred, she said.

Step by step the state is trying to weave its web of circumstantial evidence around William Gummer, charged with the murder of Marie Wick.

Miss Wick, on the night that she was assigned to the room, was given a key attached to a brass plate.

She locked her door from the inside with that key.

It has not since been found, the door to her room was locked from the outside by the man who raped and murdered her, and he took the key with him.

When State's Attorney Green exhibited a key attached to a brass plate such as the hotel gives to its guests, (Continued on Page 3)

PANIC REIGNS IN ASIA MINOR

Evacuation of Ismid Puts Population in Distress

London, June 28. (By the Associated Press.)—The position on the Ismid peninsula in Asia Minor where the Greeks and Turkish Nationalist forces are opposed to each other is obscure. Cecil Harmsworth, under secretary for foreign affairs, stated in the house of commons today information received this morning however, was that the town of Ismid had been evacuated by the Greeks and was burning with the results that there was great panic in the district.

PRODUCTIVITY CHIEF PROBLEM

(Special to The Tribune)
Fargo, N. D., June 28. H. M. Wallis, president of the J. I. Case Plow Works Company, founded the keynote of economic farming after surveying the tractor demonstration grounds and predicted for this demonstration the biggest success of any previous affair of its kind.
Mr. Wallis called attention to the fact that less than 30 per cent of the total population of the nation is now tilling the soil as contrasted with an excess of 60 per cent prior to 1890.
"An accounting of the nation's affairs must take cognizance of the needs of the farmer," said Mr. Wallis. "Our natural inheritance in the past has been our vast area of unoccupied land, on which our constantly increasing population could settle. We still have a very large acreage of unoccupied, but the big problem today is not the breaking of new land, but the increased productivity of the land already under cultivation."
"I believe there can be no sound economic program in the administration of national affairs that does not consider the necessity of labor on the farm and of keeping the farm boys on the farm. I recall this statement by the late James J. Hill. "Not armies or navies or commerce or diversity of manufacture or anything other than the farm is the anchor which will hold through the storms that sweep all else away." We have come into an era of greater demand on the soil and as the years go on this demand will increase. There is great hope in the situation because the farmer is keeping pace with necessity. The farmer today realizes that it is not only a question of more bushels per acre but more per man-hour and more acres per hour. Obviously, without a satisfactory tractor to make up with mechanical certainty for the decrease in available farm labor, increased or even continued average yields are out of the question.

"The entrance of automotive power into farm operation has resulted in systematic farm management governed by business principles. The result is that the farmer is rapidly coming, perhaps I should say, he has come into his own. In other words, the farmer today is not merely a worker in the field, he is a working partner in the greatest business in this country, the invested capital in which is more than the capital invested in all manufacturing industries, all railroads, all mines and oil wells, all iron and steel companies, all automobile companies, the Standard Oil properties and the capital and surplus of all national banks and insurance companies in this country and is equal to the total wealth of Great Britain."

Mr. Wallis is considered the father of the light weight tractor, the construction of which is typified in the tractor bearing his name.

Elks Camps For Disabled Veterans

Minneapolis, Minn., June 29.—Disabled veterans of the World War from the states of Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota, and Montana, are eligible to spend two weeks of recreation at a summer camp at Big Island, Lake Minnetonka, which will be ready for occupation July 1.

Together with the Federal Board of Vocational Education, which is giving rehabilitation training to about 2,800 men here from the four states, the local chapter of the Elks lodge have made the summer camp possible. After initiation for the camp for the soldiers in training here, who have disabilities traceable to the war, establishment of it rested upon obtaining financial aid for its maintenance. That the Elks obtained mainly by staging a boxing contest, the revenue derived therefrom being used to defray the camp expenses.

Disabled service men taking training here under "the federal board's direction" will be allowed two weeks' vacation, on government pay, to spend at the camp. M. T. Horthey, personal service officer for the federal board, announced. Mr. Horthey will have charge of the camp also.

Several thousand disabled war veterans in the four northwest states will be eligible for entrance into the camp, Mr. Horthey estimated. As the accommodations are somewhat limited, stays will be of two-weeks duration, and 150 to 200 men will be taken care of at a time, according to Mr. Horthey. The time limit had to be set to provide for recreation for all, he said.

The site at Big Island which is about 15 miles from Minneapolis was donated by Horace Lowry, president of the Twin City Rapid Transit Company. Buildings have been repaired on the grounds and equipment purchased. Much of the recreational equipment will be furnished by Col. A. W. Hjornstad, commandant at Fort Snelling, upon authorization from the War Department at Washington.

A camp director and manager has been named.

No charge is made for the camp, but the veterans attending it will pay $1 a day for meals.

10,000 SEE TRACTORS WORK

Fargo, June 29.—More than 10,000 persons had attended the National Tractor show at noon today, with the largest attendance expected this afternoon.

Practically all of the 373 tractors entered in the soil breaking and seeding contest had completed their allotted 10-acre tract at noon. The show ends tomorrow.

STATE TRYING TO PIN
CRIME ON HOTEL BOY

Pickering said it seemed to be the same kind of a key.
Gummer, says Pickering, advanced the theory of suicide when the officer arrived in the hotel. Pickering was the first official on the ground. He asked Gummer in the office what the trouble was, and Gummer was quoted as replying that "the girl in No. 30 is covered with blood and it looks like suicide."

When they entered the room, after Gummer opened the door, Pickering says Gummer again advanced the theory of suicide.
Pickering asserted that it "looked like murder," he told the court.

Called It Suicide.

Gummer was quoted as replying that "it couldn't be murder as the door was locked."
Pickering said he made a search of the room for the key given to the girl, but did not find it.
He said he did not see from whence Gummer produced the key he used, nor has he seen it since.

A pair of bloody trousers found in the basement of the Prescott hotel have been introduced by the state as an exhibit. Gummer has denied ownership.

The murder trial crowds were handled more expeditiously by the deputy sheriffs and firemen yesterday afternoon than they were in the morning when the crowds stormed the halls and corridors in an effort to gain entrance into the court room.

Instead of permitting the crowds in the court house, deputy sheriffs were stationed at the entrances to the building, keeping the people on the outside, thus preventing any possibility of anyone being overcome in the jam.

When it came time for the trial proceedings to open at 2 P. M., the deputy sheriffs permitted two persons to enter, at a time. In this way the seats in the court room were filled without any disturbance or commotion and there was no occasion for delay in beginning the proceedings because of noise in the halls.

Spalding Recalled.

Deane Spalding of the county engineer's office, was recalled by the state at the opening of the afternoon proceedings. He testified as to the diagram of the third floor which was labeled state exhibit No. 9, showing the relation of the rooms to each other.

For 10 years, O. J. Johnson, vice president of the State bank of Grygla, Minn., knew Miss Wick. He testified in his examination. He said she was about 18 years old and that she left Grygla on Sunday, June 5. He testified that she entered his bank Saturday, June 4, and got $20 in cash, and a cashier's check for the same amount. He said she had been employed in the Farmers' Co-operative store of that village for a year.

Slain Girl's Brother Called.
"Marie was 13 years old," testified Ernie Wick of Hendrum, Minn., a brother of the slain girl. He said he was 20. He testified that she had never been in Fargo before or any town of its size.

"She had been to Warren, Minn., the biggest town she had ever been in," was his answer to State's Attorney Green's interrogation. "Ever been in as large a town as Fargo before?"

Mrs. Lawrence Recalled.
The state also recalled Mrs. Annie E. Lawrence, proprietress of the Prescott hotel, who testified to checking in Miss Wick and that the defendant had not told her who was in room No. 31, adjoining Miss Wick's room, or whom he had placed in other rooms. She testified with reference to guests on the ground floor and other floors of the hotel on the night of June 6.

Mrs. Lawrence testified that there were about three holes through the panel of the door connecting rooms Nos. 30 and 31. The holes had been plugged. She testified the plugs had been removed by one of the officers after the discovery of the crime. She testified that there was a chance for a person to leave the third floor of the hotel and step onto the roof of the annex from several rooms, there being a slight drop.

The witness testified that Miss Wick at first left a call for 6:30 A. M., and upon going to her room for the second time asked that it be changed to 8 A. M. She said that nobody was with Miss Wick when she returned to the hotel, the second time, which was about 11 P. M. Shortly after that Mrs. Lawrence went to her room, meeting her son, Fred, in the hall.

Told to Look Over Transom.
"The clerk called me at 6:30 and said he had been calling the girl in room No. 30 and could get no answer," testified Fred Lawrence, son of the proprietress of the hotel.

"I told him to look over the transom and he returned and told me I had better go. He said it looked like she had a brown or reddish cloth on. I then looked over the transom. I tried the door, and it was locked. I then sent the clerk down to call the police."

"Just then the maid came along and I told her to open the door with the pass-key I had made. She let a yell out of her and ran."

Mr. Lawrence then testified to visiting the other rooms with the officers in their investigation.

John Towers, who occupied room No. 33, testified he did not hear a sound and that he retired about 11 P. M. Albert Rosenwasser, said he arose about 6:45 A. M. and had heard someone trying to call Miss Wick.

Hat Pin Is Introduced.
The hat pin, the point of which had been bent, which was found the day following the murder and which the state contends was used to open the slain girl's room, was introduced as state exhibit No. 11, during the testimony of Mrs. Margaret Bergstrom, who occupied room No. 35, on the fourth or top floor.

She testified that the hat pin was found on the stand where the water jar is kept. She identified the hat pin as the one which had been discovered by the maid and shown her.

Lawrence Jacobson arrived in Fargo on the evening of June 6 from Bismarck and was assigned to room No. 27, but the lock on his door was defective so he asked for another room and was given No. 29. Since the murder he has been at Hunter, Cass county.

The testimony of Ray Simmons, 1407 First avenue N., was to the effect that he did not learn of the murder until noon of Tuesday, April 7. On June 6, he and his wife retired about 9:30 and heard no disturbance. He arose at 6:30 A. M.

John J. Meyers testified that he got to bed at 11:30 P. M. He did not hear any noise or disturbance that night. Pedro Christensen, foreman of the Haggart Construction company's paving crew, occupied room No. 46, and went to his room about 11 P. M. and did not hear of the murder until 9:30 A. M. the next day.

Dyebuk Heard Scream.
Mitro Dyebuk, formerly of Perham, Minn., went to his room, No. 45, third floor, about 10:30 P. M., and testified that he was awakened by a single scream after which there was silence. He testified that he did not leave his bed and did not hear any further disturbance that night.

Bloody Clothing Introduced.
The bloodstained pillowslip with which Miss Wick was gagged, the bandages which were used as blinders, the nightgown that she wore and the bedclothing, all stained with blood, were introduced as evidence by the state during the testimony of C. Edward Matelock, embalmer for H. F. Moore.

This proved to be the most gruesome part of the proceedings. The witness testified that the pillowslip, introduced as exhibit No. 13, was the one that had been removed from the girl's mouth, and testified that the closed end of the pillowslip was pushed into her mouth and the open end down over the face. He said the large bandage, exhibit No. 14, was found around her head.

Under the direct examination by State's Attorney Green, the witness told of the condition of the girl's body, his statements substantiating those made by Dr. P. H. Burton, county physician. He enumerated the wounds on the head, their location, and testified that he took 150 stitches and then quit counting, and that he probably took 15 or 20 more stitches before he was through with the body.

Following is the sheriff's testimony in part:

Q—You were called to the hotel on the morning of June 7?

A—Yes.

Q—Did you go to room 30?

A—Yes.

Q—Was it unlocked?

A—Yes, sir.

Q—Please describe the condition that you found in room 30 as nearly as you can describe it.

A—Room 30 is in the southwest corner of the main hotel building. It is a rather small room, about 10x12, and a door to the hall on the north side, the northeast corner and a door in the east wall between rooms 31 and 30. The head of the bed was against the north wall and the east side of the bed touched the door frame. The washstand was in the southwest corner of the room with a bowl, pitcher and soap jar. There was a window in the south wall of the room; the dresser was against the east wall next to the window, with the back against the wall. A carpet covered the floor. A chair stood between the dresser and the washstand. A girl lying on the bed with her arms tied over her head to each bedpost, covered with a blanket and spread, pillows beside her head with the slips off. The covers were pulled up under her arms, and were neatly pulled down over the foot of the bed; her clothes were on the chair; her hat on the dresser; pocketbook on the dresser, also her comb; her stockings on the doorknob on the door leading between 30 and 31; shoes beside the bed; two straw suitcases were along the east wall between the door and the dresser. The contents of these were neatly arranged and looked as if they had never been disturbed.

Purse Practically Empty.

Q—Did you open her purse?

A—I did, and found a few cents.

Q—Any cashier's check?

A—No; no bills or silver, but a bankbook on the State bank of Grygla.

Q—Did you notice the condition of the water in the bowl?

A—There was dirty water both in the soap jar and the bowl.

Q—What was the condition of her body (introducing state's exhibit 7) from the armpits down as to blood?

A—Except on both hips, it was free from blood.

Q—What kind of blood did you see on the hips?

A—Bloody smears; they looked like finger marks.

Q—Did you see on the right arm as to the number of knots that were tied?

A—There were about eight knots, securely tied on the right arm.

Q—With what was it tied?

A—With a portion of the sheet.

Q—What as to the tying of the left arm?

A—Had just a few knots.

Holes in Door Plugged.

Kraemer also testified to finding blood marks on the wall next to the bed, on the carpet in front of the bed and on the bed clothes and the mattress. The light bulb in the room was found by the sheriff have blood stains. The door leading to room 31 was plugged on the side of the girl's room and the dust at the corners was found to have been undisturbed. An indentation in the rod at the head of the bed was found.

Q—Did the clerk tell you who occupied room 30?

A—Yes.

Q—Who?

A—H. A. McKenzie. An examination was made of his clothing.

Q—Did he tell you who occupied room 28?

A—Yes. Ed Smith and wife. Both went to bed about two.

Q—Did he tell you occupied room 31?

A—Yes.

Q—Who?

A—H. J. Hugen.

Q—Did you make a search of Hugen and his belongings?

A—I found no indication of anything out of the ordinary.

Q—Did he tell you who occupied room 40?

A—He said a man came in about 2 o'clock. A man of about 30. Dark complexioned; had a gray suit. Said he looked like an Italian.

Q—Did he have any baggage?

A—No baggage.

John Van Worst, night man at a local department store, who lived with his family in an apartment in an addition to the rear of the Prescott hotel, testified that he came to the hotel on the night of the murder at a little after 10. The landlady and clerk were at the desk when he passed through the lobby, and another couple that he took to be two men in the lobby. He returned to his work about 11 o'clock, seeing no one on the way out. Passing through the lobby again in the morning between 5 and 6 on his way home from work, he noticed the night clerk behind the counter and said he appeared to be dozing.

Tells of Hearing Noise.

Mrs. Van Worst was called late in the afternoon. She is one of the only two persons in the Prescott on the night of the murder who has testified to hearing any noise out of the ordinary. Mrs. Van Worst said that after she had made coffee for her husband and he had gone back to his work, she went out in the lobby and saw William Gummer working at the switchboard. Returning to her apartment, she took her baby and went to the second floor to go to bed about 12 o'clock. During the night she was suddenly awakened by a noise which she thought sounded as if someone were walking on a tin roof. Another noise was like the sound of a ball thrown against the wall of the Prescott above her roof. A dull sound was later heard.

AS A MATTER OF PROTEST
Those urging the bond issue are attempting to laugh down opposition by pointing to the small increase in general taxes the proposed $30,000 issue would necessitate. The Tribune believes the time has come to enter a protest against increases in special assessments until some of the obligations assumed are partially discharged. A start must be made somewhere and the proposed bond issue election is the proper place for the voters of the city to register a protest.

In the first place the city commission should never have ordered the election in face of present conditions and of the high tax load, but now that the step has been taken, it behooves the taxpayers to study the financial situation before casting their ballots.

If when all the facts are known, the people desire to plunge a little deeper into debt, why there will be nothing to do but bear with the results. Every step of this kind taken until the present overhead is reduced means less money for the business development of Bismarck. It means also that more people than is now the case will become delinquent in tax payments. To continue pyramiding the city debt means more property listed in tax sales and a greater tardiness in meeting tax payments—a situation which is actually embarrassing the city today.

"Why if everyone would pay up their taxes, the city would be in fine shape," is a stock excuse of those who think that big taxes mean city development. If these expert financiers who are defending the bond issue would only get their ears to the ground they can easily determine why fifty or sixty per cent of the taxpayers have failed to meet their taxes promptly.

There are no bigger fish in the sea than those that nibbled and swam away.

COMING BACK
That Germany is "coming back" industrially faster than any other European nation, is the almost unanimous opinion of close students of affairs abroad.

Production is showing a healthy increase, especially in the key industries and each month shows a decrease in unemployment.

The relations between employers and employees seem to have been more generally adjusted than in the other countries, with the result that Germany is practically free of strikes.

Some men are so fat you don't know whether to climb over or walk around.

NECKS
"If we survey the pictures of our great-grandmothers, we see them clothed down to the very wrists and up to the very chins. The following age of women * * * first of all tucked up their garments to the elbow. About the same time, the ladies considering that the neck was a very modest part of the body, they freed it from those yokes in which the simplicity of their grandmothers had inclosed it. In proportion as the age refined the dress still sunk lower * * *"

Who said this? His name was Joseph Addison, English essayist, who died in 1719. He might have spoken it today concerning fashions.

WORRY
System wins battles. The pin-studded maps played an all-important part in the World War.

Why not apply system to the battles of your life?

One of your greatest enemies is Worry. Here's a suggestion for a system to beat time.

Each day make a written list of all your worries. Thirty days later check over the list to see how many of the worries were worth worrying about.

When you find that most of your worries don't materialize, you'll soon lose the habit of worrying.

NECESSITY
The German genius for organization and economical production seems to have reasserted itself, and there are reports of new and more highly developed forms of organization, designed to aid the German people in the great task which the allies' final reparations terms have set for them.

The prediction has been frequently made by those who are thoroughly familiar with the German character, that within ten years Germany would regain her position of European industrial domination. This notwithstanding the great handicap of the reparation debt.

As the situation sands today between Germany and the other European nations, the chances seem better than even that this prediction will be fulfilled.

The very necessities of her situation are forcing and will continue to force Germany to ever-increasing industry and efficiency.

Germans say Dempsey will win; but their fight forecasts are in disrepute.

THE GREEN MYSTERY
If you have the Sherlock Holmes detective instinct and want to study a mystery more baffling than the most complicated crime, go out to your backyard garden.

If you haven't a garden, just look at the different vegetables on the table next time you sit down to dinner.

This is the mystery:
You can take a load of soil, plant a seed in it and by mysterious alchemy that seed will gradually change part of the soil into a cabbage. But use a different seed and the same soil will evolve into an onion, a radish or a cluster of lettuce.

What is it that can produce so many different forms of vegetable life out of the same substance—earth?

At the state experiment farm, Wooster, Ohio, scientists took a tract of 50 acres.

The soil was the same everywhere on that tract, yet this year it will yield a harvest of 2000 different varieties of vegetables and fruits.

Pick up a handful of dirt anywhere on that 50 acres and you have those 2000 different crops in concentrated form on your palm.

Up in Portage Lake, Ontario, Canada, an island burned over. Nothing was left but ashes. Six years went by and a naturalist, visiting the island, counted 1426 different kinds of trees and shrubbery. All of which are just a different form of the same substance—earth.

Roger Williams, founder of Rhode Island, died in 1683. In 1866 his grave was opened.

The coffin had disappeared—gone back to dust.

So had Roger Williams—even his skeleton.

Some one had dropped an apple seed overhead. It sprouted into a tree, whose roots crept down and spread out in the form of a skeleton and in the exact position once occupied by Roger's bones.

"That apple tree," commented one of the diggers, "is Roger Williams. At least, it's the same substance in different form."

Your body is made of earth—dust.

Look at your hand. The dust of which it is composed at various times in the past has been part of millions of growing things.

Concentrated in you is the identical substance or dust that once formed the tusk of a charging mammoth, the wing of a giant prehistoric bird or the leaf of a monster fern.

Some day again, the dust that makes up your body will live and move in other forms of life. It may be a tree, an insect or a stalk of corn.

The change goes on forever—out of the dust, back to the dust.

In the puzzle of what can make that dust become anigated in millions of different forms, you have that greatest mystery—the riddle of life.

Speaking of golden gates, how about that one in Jersey City, July 2?

Those who blame their inclination to loaf on the hay fever season should remember this is also the canning season.

Home brewers are using 2000 tons of raisins per month. Now figure the increase in consumption of headache powders.

EDITORIAL REVIEW
Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

THE NEW "PRAIRIE SCHOONERS"
The prairie schooner of other days attains an Elysian development in the caravan of automobiles scheduled to leave Brooklyn in July for Idaho. By this means of transit 180 families will cross the country to form a farming community in the Western states.

Is not this pioneering de luxe, with all the improvements of modern civilization? It may be supposed that many of their stay-at-home neighbors will envy them the prospect. There is the pleasure of the trip, the lure of the Far West, and back of it all the innate desire of men to go on pilgrimages and start a new community.

More important than the fortunes or fate of this particular caravan colony is the spirit which it exemplifies. Is it symptomatic, and will there be others like it? Motor car transportation supplies an attractive means of getting away from the congested centers. And with this incentive on the one hand and the stress of high city rents on the other, why should not the example inspire imitations? Why should it not actuate a new and wider back-to-the-land movement.—New York World.

HARDING ATTACKS RAIL JAM

President Gets Into Action After Session With Western Bankers

By Newspaper Enterprise.
Washington, June 30. The railroad log-jam, President Harding has decided, must be broken before there can be any return to normalcy in American business and industry.

That was the advice given him by the score of western bankers who dined at the White House recently and discussed with him the nation's financial and business health.

These men painted no pleasant picture. They told the president of unemployment, of shrinking bank balances and depleted savings accounts of lessened production and lessened buying power. And they added:

"We'll soon be heading into a hard winter. We've got to start somewhere to pick up the dropped stitches of industry, and the place where we believe the thread can most effectively be taken up is at the railroads. Through the railroads, the government can apply a remedy that will tone up the whole business system."

Oppose Foreign Loans.
These bankers opposed the suggestion of eastern bankers, who preceded them by two weeks at the White House. These bankers urged the making of further large loans—on which they would get a commission—to foreign countries, contending America would benefit by the general betterment of world commerce.

The western bankers said the immediate financial aid should be applied at home and not abroad.

The farm credit situation, they told Harding, is greatly improved, about 75 per cent of loans made to farmers having been liquidated. But business generally is in the dumps.

Gist of Situation.
The whole situation, the president was told, can be lightened only without congressional action or delay. Briefly, the situation is this:

The railroad, and in debt to the government some hundreds of millions of dollars for improvements made during the period of government operation.

The government owes the railroads similarly large sums for rentals and in guaranteed returns.

The government will not pay these sums until the railroads pay. But the railroads cannot finance these payments. Also, until they collect the payments they hold to be due from the government, they cannot pay their bills.

These bills are owed to lumber, steel and supply dealers generally all over the country.

These men, unable to collect from the railroads, are unable to pay their bills, and so business is jammed up all along the line.

Bankers' Remedy.
The government, under existing law, the president was told, has authority to fund the capital investment made in the railroads for not to exceed 15 years.

If that were done and payment made the roads of sums due for rentals and guarantee, things could start moving.

Until it is done—or until the roads get money with which to pay their bills and begin repairing cars and replacing tracks—things will remain in a jam.

The Alternative.
If nothing is done before the present harvest, crops will not move, prices will be low on the farms and high in the cities, unemployment will increase, buying power will diminish and credits tighten and winter will come with the prospect of the hardest times this nation has yet experienced.

Such is the picture as it was painted for the Chief Executive by his banker guests. The very next day he caused a conference to be held between the secretary of treasury, the secretary of commerce, the chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the director general of railroads.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

"For goodness sake, what's happening?" he cried.

Right near to Ben Bunny's house stood the Magical Mushroom. He knew that Nancy and Nick had gone up to the sky to help Mr. Sprinkle-Blow, but he decided to wait awhile and see how things went before following them. He had seen Mr. Sun chase Jack Frost, and he had watched the approach of the cloud upon which sat the twins and the Weatherman. He had seen the tricky breezes jump unknowingly into Mr. Sprinkle-Blow's big bag and then get hauled up to the sky where they belonged, and out of the way of the growing things. Folks on earth call them March winds, but fairy-folk know they have another name.

Then he had noticed approvingly the warm rain that followed and Ben Bunny's delight at the same, but he was absolutely astonished when the big hailstone hit Ben on the nose, and still more astonished when more big hailstones, big as walnuts, came pelt-ing down everywhere. "Hey there!" he called up to the cloud upon which the Weatherman and his helpers were sitting with their water-pots tilted. "What are you doing?"

But no one heard him, so he decided to go himself and find out what had happened.

Right up through the pelting hailstones he went, using Magic of course (otherwise his nice round hat would have been mashed to pieces), and landed on the very cloud where Nancy and Nick and Sprinkle-Blow were peacefully sitting.

"For goodness sake! What's happening?" he cried. "You're both pouring down hailstones like hand bombs," and he pointed to the watering-pots which the children held in their hands.

"It's those Nuisance Fairies again!" declared Sprinkle-Blow with a shout, slinging his bag containing the breezes over his shoulder and closing his umbrella so he could ride it up to the star where he lived. "Come on, kiddoes, we'll investigate."

Dr. McKinney's talks are very fine and it is to be regretted that the date of the Chautauqua programs conflict with the camp meetings, which will prevent a great many people from enjoying them.

Select Local Concern's Bid.
At a meeting of the building committee of the Methodist church on Tuesday evening, it was decided to accept the bid of the Mandan Construction Company, and the work will go forward in a few days.

The new structure, which will be 42x89 in size is to be constructed of Hebron brick in a rich dark brown with trim of the lighter brick. The architectural style is to be full Gothic.

PRACTICES OF STATE BANK IN COURT DISPUTE

man who had been an employee of the Nonpartisan league was placed in a position to pass upon all the loans made by the Scandinavian-American bank of Fargo. There was no explanation as to why the stock certificates were cancelled, or the whereabouts of the missing stock certificate. The witness said Paddock did not qualify as a director.

Continue State Quest
The testimony in the case yesterday afternoon, through introduction of evidence by J. J. Weeks, special assistant attorney general, in place of Brevig and F. W. Cathro on the stand and the cross-examination of Arthur LeSueur, counsel for Brinton, reads like a continuation of the investigation of the house of representatives committee inquiry into state industries last winter.

Mr. LeSueur tried to trace a $1,000 note by William Lemke, now attorney-general of North Dakota, into the bank of North Dakota, as a part of, as he contended, the $330,000 of paper which the Scandinavian-American bank sent to the state bank in 1919 and over which Brinton charged there was a controversy. As a part of the apparent continuation of the house of representatives investigation he identified through the minutes of the board of directors of the Scandinavian-American bank several small county banks, which were shown in the house investigation to have received large deposits from the bank of North Dakota, as "associate banks" of the Scandinavian bank.

It was shown in the minutes of the board of directors meeting that certain notes given for stock and carried for the "associate banks" were passed and approved by the board of directors of the Fargo bank. The minutes of the meeting of Nov. 15, 1919, said that "The following notes given for bank stock and carried for associate banks, the following towns were passed and approved: Grand Forks, Leith, Hatton, Lisbon, Casselton and Wymbleson."

The list of notes was not contained in the minutes of the board of directors. During the house of representatives investigation certain banks in these towns were shown to have received large deposits from the bank of North Dakota, and through this relation the house committee made an effort to link them with the Scandinavian-American bank as "league banks" but the term of "associated banks" was applied in the minutes of the Scandinavian bank for the first time.

Answer Question
A dramatic moment came during Mr. Brevig's testimony which occupied most of yesterday in the court, when Mr. LeSueur and the court told him that he need not answer a question if he thought it would incriminate him. Mr. Brevig answered the question.

The minutes of the Scandinavian-American bank of Jan. 14, 1921, about one month before it closed its doors, were read. A portion of the minutes included a letter from F. B. Wood, an executive committeeman of the National Nonpartisan league, to the bank in which he authorized the depositing of the sums of approximately $35,000 to the credit of new capital stock and surplus. The minutes of the bank showed that F. C. Heaton, since arrested on charges growing out of his employment with the bank, made a declaration that $38,807.11 is deposited in the bank. LeSueur tried to show that the declaration was not correct and the money was not there.

but Brevig said it was done in compliance with a state law.

Mr. LeSueur showed from records introduced in court that stock certificates of the Peoples State bank of Casselton and the Peoples State bank of Grand Forks were placed in the Scandinavian-American bank of Fargo and tried to show that the stock certificates were deposited in the Scandinavian bank to gain money with which to invest in other banks in the alleged Pownley scheme of a "chain of banks" throughout the state.

Coming down to the Lemke note there was shown to have been given to the Scandinavian bank the personal note of the Attorney-General to $1,000, which the witness said was sent to the Bank of North Dakota. It appeared from the testimony that Lemke had given a $2,000 note to the Fargo bank in 1919. Apparently one-half of it, or $1,000, was received June 9, 1919, and is now part of the paper in the Bank of North Dakota. It was the intention of Mr. LeSueur that the $1,000 note of William Lemke, which was a part of the $330,000 of so-called "league paper" which F. W. Cathro said was brought to the Bank of North Dakota and then back to the Fargo bank, had again found its way into the Bank of North Dakota and is now there. The state claimed that the note was a renewal. The state placed Mr. Cathro on the stand late in the day in an effort to show that the deposits of the Bank of North Dakota in the Scandinavian-American bank of Fargo were not unusual. Mr. Cathro declared that no Cass county bank had been refused a loan prior to Feb. 8, 1921. On cross-examination he was asked if any bank in Cass county had been refused a redeposit before that time, he said that he had no recollection of it. He said that money was transferred from Bismarck banks to the Scandinavian-American bank at Fargo prior to the time the Bank of North Dakota opened for business on July 28, 1921.

Mrs. Ireland Permits us to Publish this Letter for the Benefit of Others Who Are in Her Condition

Warsaw, Missouri.—"For five years I was weakly, nervous and in a run-down condition. Then I had a nervous breakdown and doctors said I would never be well again. After I took seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was healthier, stronger, and felt better than I ever did before. I can't praise the Compound enough and will recommend it to all women. You may publish this letter if you think it will help others."—Mrs. FLOYD IRLEND, R. R. 1, Warsaw, Missouri.

Nervous women are both ailing and wretched, and with a nervous breakdown all joy goes out of a woman's life. It is said that the ill peculiar to women act on the nerves like a firebrand.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming such conditions, a large number of American women who were once great sufferers from nerve troubles owe their present health and comfort to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

MARKETS

WHEAT SLUMPS.
Chicago, June 30. Prospects of rain in northwest led to a decline in wheat prices. Refusal of elevator employees to arbitrate wage troubles acted as a bear factor also.
There were moderate setbacks and then something of a rise.
Pronounced lack of support had a depressing influence but signs of export business caused rallies near the end of the day. Prices closed firm, quarter to 11-4 cents net higher.

ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK.
St. Paul, June 30—Cattle receipts 2,100. Better grades beef steers and butcher she stock steady to strong. Other slow, about steady. Common to good beef steers, $7 to $8. Bulk under $7. Butcher she stock bulk $2.75 to $3.50. Veal calves 25 cents lower. Packer top $6.50. Stocker and feeder, dragsy and weak.
Hog receipts, 2,100. Strong, mostly 10 to 15 cents higher. Range, $7.50 to $8.60. Bulk, $7.90 to $8.40. Good and choice steers, $8.75 to $9.
Sheep receipts, 200. Steady. Good native lambs, $8.50. Good and choice ewes, $2 to $3.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK.
Chicago, June 30—Cattle, 6,000. Beef steers, mostly 15 to 25 cents higher. Bulk, $6.75 to $8.25. Hogs, 25,000, active, 15 cents higher. Sheep, 9,000, mostly steady.

MINNEAPOLIS FLOUR.
Minneapolis, June 30—Flour unchanged to 20 cents higher. In carload lots, $8.50 to $8.70 a barrel. Shipments, 37,712 barrels. Bran, $14 to $15.

WEAKNESS SHOWN.
Duluth, June 30—Weakness was shown early in today's market, selling appearing as a result of promised lower temperatures over the Northwest. Prices called from the low spots on short covering operations and full recovery was made. July wheat closed 1-2 cent up at $1.25-1-2 bid. July closed 5 cents up at $1.84 bid. Rye closed 1-1-2 cents off at $1.18-1-2 for spot. Oats closed 3-8 cents off at 31-1-8. Barley unchanged at 43 to 61 cents, and No. 2 mixed and yellow corn 1-2 cent off at 51-7-8 cents for spot.

Flax No. 1 $1.82 to $1.81.

ENDURANCE OF HUDSON CAR NOT DISPUTED.

"It is a very common sight to see Hudson Super-Sixes three, four, and five years old still giving service hardly less smooth and able than when they were new," states R. B. Laubek, local Hudson-Sixes dealer.
"These cars that move it. But in the Super-Six was so slow, and compensating adjustments so simply made that nothing short of gross neglect will diminish its smoothness and capacity for many years."
"And the fact that Hudson body lines have been so consistently expressive of good taste makes them acceptable when more extreme types have become out-dated."

Superior, Wis. June 29. Pagan Chippewa Indians at the Ojibwa reservation last night held a powwow to petition their pagan gods for rain which is badly needed in that section. The number of pagans among the Indians is rapidly diminishing and a powwow is now held only on rare occasions.

School Girl Passes Unique Brain Test.

Boston, June 29. Miss Constance Bourke of Leaville, Colo., a fifth man at Simmons college, is announced as head of her class in general intelligence. The decision was reached through application of novelty tests originated by Dr. A. H. Roback, instructor in psychology at Harvard University and at Simmons.

The twelve papers of the Roback tests, with the exception of the analogy, hard opposites and direct tests which were based on familiar principles, were devised by Dr. Roback with the college student in mind. It was explained in announcing the award.

One of the most interesting of the test questions is the Problems Test, designed to gauge capacity to grapple with a practical situation. One of the problems, for example, asks if you were on the sixth floor of a department store in a hurry to get to the ground floor and two elevators came at the same time, one carrying a heavy crowd and the other only two passengers, which would you take and why? The person of average age and some average intelligence answered at once. The elevator with two passengers because it is easier to get in and out of. It takes the superior intelligence to reason that the full car will in a probability express to the ground floor where the first party would stop on the way.

SHE'LL IDENTIFY CONVENTIONITES

MISS LENA PHILLIPS.
Miss Lena Phillips, of New York, executive secretary of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women, will identify you. She'll swing to the railroad companies, when you go to Cleveland, Ohio, July 18 to 27, for the convention that you are asked to attend. That's her particular part of the event. Immediately upon your arrival in Cleveland she should be asked to approve your certificate, which you will ask for when you buy your ticket. Thus, your certificate, with her approval, provides for your return home at the reduced convention rate.

down at each floor to take on more passengers.

"The Relations Test was another poser. It two first cousins were to marry, what would be the former and the new relationship of Miss A's sister's husband to Mr. X's? Answer, former relation, first cousin by marriage, new relation, brother-in-law. Of Mr. X to Miss A's mother? Answer, old relation, nephew, now, son-in-law. Of Miss A's brother to Mr. X's sister? Answer, first cousin and brother's brother-in-law. Of Mr. X's brother to Miss A's brother? Answer, uncle and sister's father-in-law. Mr. and Mrs. X's child to Mr. X's brother's child? Answer, second cousin, first cousin.

"There were ten others besides the Relations and the Problem Tests to be answered inside of three hours. The six highest scores were obtained by American girls of American parentage, it was added."

OXEN ARE STILL FAVORITES UPON EASTERN FARMS

Kansas City, June 30. While thousands of tractors are reported to be on their way west, shipped to farmers from western manufacturers, there is a representative of Connecticut farmers in Kansas City buying oxen to work on Connecticut farms.

This man is C. E. Colcord, an Illinois farmer, who also operates in Connecticut and represents farmers there.

Women are as great sufferers from kidney and bladder ailments as men. Foley Kidney Pills help rid the blood.

SUMMER BEAUTY HINT
Hair is by far the most conspicuous thing about us and is probably the most easily damaged by bad or careless treatment. If we are very careful in hair washing, we will have virtually no hair troubles. An especially fine shampoo for this weather, one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair, that dissolves and entirely removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt, can easily be used at trifling expense by simply dissolving a tea spoonful of canthrox (which you can get at any druggist's), in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. This chemically dissolves all impurities and creates a soothing, cooling lather. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on the glossy richness of natural color, also a softness which makes it seem much heavier than it is. After canthrox shampoo, arranging the hair is a pleasure.

The Best Raspberries for Canning

Raspberries are delicious in any form. You'll find this an especially satisfactory recipe:

Raspberries, Canned.
Sort fruit, use only firmest. (Soft fruit can be used for jam.) Place in sterilized pint glass in layers, one layer of fruit and one layer of sugar. Allow about 4 tablespoons full sugar to each pint jar. Place in steamer or boiler with covers loose, fill with cold water up to neck of jar. Allow water to come to good boil. This will shrink berries. Take and fill one jar from another. Seal with tight tops and place back in boiler. Allow water to boil take off top, let jars stand 15 minutes in hot water before taking off, allow to cool, then place in cool room.

BISMARCK WINS EASY CONTEST OFF NEIGHBORS

Mandan Serves Notice However,
Of a Stronger Team For Other Games

Bismarck defeated Mandan, 11 to 2 in their third meeting of the season on the local grounds last evening. The two teams play at Mandan this evening. It is probable that Mandan will play here Sunday and Bismarck will play at Mandan on July 4.

Mandan served notice on the local team that it would not have an easy job in the game today, nor in the succeeding games, as Mandan has some new players coming that will make the team one of the best in the western part of the state.

Higgins pitched for Bismarck, and held Mandan safe at all times. The locals got 12 hits off Russell in the first five innings and two off Benson in the remaining innings.

The box score:

YOU MAY BE A BLOCK AND A HALF FROM THE RING — BUT YOU'LL SEE.

The Jersey Arena

BY E. M. THIERRY

Jersey City, June 30.—The huge wooden saucer in which Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier will battle July 2 is the world's largest stadium.

The arena has seats for 31,613 persons. If all are sold the receipts will total nearly $1,500,000.

The diameter of the arena, which is octagonal in shape, is 600 feet. The first row of seats is 14 feet from the center of the ring—two feet from the edge. The last row of seats is exactly 288 feet from the edge of the ring.

Standing up in the last row, 34 feet above the ground, you are a distance equal to one and a half city blocks (New York blocks) from the ring. But it will be possible to see the wallpops all right—unless you're nearsighted.

The total cost of the arena has reached $250,000, although the original estimate was $110,000.

Grading on Boyle's Thirty Acres alone cost $40,000, for it was necessary to fill in a great area of marshland. Lumber cost $95,000.

Two million board feet of lumber have been used in the arena. This is enough to fill 133 freight cars—enough to lay a board walk from New York almost to Pittsburg.

Nearly Half-Mile Round
The circumference of the arena is 2,016 feet, each octagonal section being 252 feet wide at the outer edge. It's nearly half a mile around it.

"Ringside" seats and box seats will be folding chairs, with backs. All other seats, including everything costing $40 or less, are of the circus seat type—planks 2 inches thick and 9 1/2 inches across. The seating spaces are marked by a thin painted line. Each seating place is 16 1/2 inches wide.

There are 7,500 ringside and box seats. There are two rows of boxes, each containing six chairs, 256 boxes in all. The boxes are at the outer edge of the ringside seats, just in front of the $40 seats. The rear railing of the boxes is 130 feet from the edge of the ring.

Safety Precautions
Safety precautions have been taken by Rickard and the municipal authorities of Jersey City. A high pressure water main, including a mile of pipe, has been laid and there are 17 fire plugs inside the arena. Just before the crowd is admitted the flooring of the arena and the supporting posts underneath—which have the appearance of a dense jungle—will be liberally flushed with water as an additional precaution against fire.

There are 13 entrances to the arena and two additional emergency exits. Four of the entrances are for ringside ticket holders.

The arena is on sufficient incline to give everybody a view of the arena. The first 100 feet from the arena the upward pitch is 12 inches to every 10 feet; in the second 100 feet 20 inches to every 10 feet and in the last 100 feet the pitch is 24 inches to every 10 feet.

Thirty-five tons of nails have been used in constructing the arena. The supporting posts are cross-braced. Alan J. O'Brien, engineer for Tex Rickard, says the arena has a carrying capacity of 1,000 pounds to the square foot.

Governor Edwards' brothers, C. S. and J. W. Edwards, built the stadium. Grading began April 27. Actual carpentry work began May 11 and was finished June 25.

Barbed Wire Here, Too
A 12-foot fence surrounds the arena.

It has several strands of barbed wire along the top, to prevent a stampede for seats similar to that which occurred at the recent Leonard-Rocky Kansas fight near Newark.

The refreshment concessionaire has eight booths under the arena. He plans to have 75,000 bottles of pop alone.

Near the arena a railroad yard has been set aside for parking Pullman cars, so special train parties will not require hotel accommodations.

Chief of Police Richard T. Battersby has arranged to have 1,200 policemen at the arena. Six hundred will be inside. Every usher will be accompanied by a policeman to exclude from each section persons who do not have proper ticket stubs. Several hundred firemen will be on duty.

Other policemen will be on duty outside the arena to keep the crowds inside ropes a block from the arena entrances. More than 250 detectives from other cities will be there to assist 100 Jersey City detectives to cope with pickpockets.

MRS. AMIDON TO COMPILE DATA

Fargo, June 30.—A visit to every one of the fifty-five counties of North Dakota this summer to help collect the war history of North Dakota, is the plan of Mrs. Charles F. Amidon, wife of U. S. District Judge Amidon, who left here today on an extended trip through the southeastern portion of the state.

Mrs. Amidon is a member of the State War History Commission, created by act of legislature in 1918, to gather the story of North Dakota's service in the world war. The Commission plans that every county's war service shall be recorded and permanently housed in a county memorial room.

Written records of the Red Cross, Liberty Loan committees and other war organizations, a complete roster of the county's service men and women, photographs of war workers, service men, war scenes abroad, etc., trophies and souvenirs from France, letters written from the front, posters and buttons used in the various drives, and newspaper files for the war period, are among the things of historic value which will be treasured in the county memorial rooms.

Six counties are already organized and at work gathering their records. Other records will be organized as rapidly as possible.

"War records are valuable things now," said Mrs. Amidon, explaining the work of the Commission. "In a few years they will be priceless. But the work of collecting our state war history must be completed at once. Already it is becoming scattered. People move away and cannot be traced. Memories are not infallible. Important documents and trophies are thrown away as 'rubbish' by those who do not realize their importance to future generations. We must do our work at once, and to do it successfully we must have the enthusiastic cooperation of everyone who believes that North Dakota's war record is worth preserving."

The Commission hopes to complete its work this summer, so that the Memorial rooms throughout the state may be dedicated on Armistice day. Anyone having material which they are willing to give to the County Memorial room, or to loan for exhibition or copying purposes is requested by the Commission to communicate with their county chairman, or direct with Mrs. Amidon.

CARP BOXES POORLY

Manhasset, L. I., June 30.—Georges Carpentier is boxing poorer now than when he first started his training here. Even his strongest partisans are wondering what has come over him. They admit he is making the poorest showing in training of any man who ever challenged for the title.
